DETAILED OFFICE ACTION

Requirement For Unity Of Invention

1. As provided in 37 CFR 1.475(a), a national stage application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept (“requirement of unity of invention”). Where a group of inventions is claimed in a national stage application, the requirement of unity of invention shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The expression “special technical features” shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art.

The determination whether a group of inventions is so linked as to form a single general inventive concept shall be made without regard to whether the inventions are claimed in separate claims or as alternatives within a single claim. See 37 CFR 1.475(e).

2. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species A: An embodiment described with respect to FIG. 1, wherein there is a window 2a. At least claim 2 is directed to this Species.

Species B: An embodiment described with respect to FIG. 5, wherein there is a scratched trench (11).

Species A and B lack unity of invention because even though the inventions of these species require the technical feature of claim 1, the genus, this technical feature is not a special technical feature as it does not make a contribution over the prior art in view of U.S. Pat. No.

Art Unit: 2814

6,995,406 to "Tojo" and "Complete Guide to Semiconductor Devices," by Kwok "Ng," 2nd Edition, (2002), pp. 396 and 397.

Specifically, Tojo discloses a GaP substrate, ELO layer over the GaP layer, and active layer over the ELO layer. See, for example, column 3, line 65 to column 4, line 3, and column 5, line 4-18. And Ng discloses that a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention of this application well recognized an active layer comprising an n-type layer and a p-type layer to be suitable for use in LED.

Searching for and examining these distinct Species together causes serious burden. In the instant case, searching for the mutually exclusive characteristics of the Species requires different fields of search (including employing different search queries). Furthermore, the Species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. § 101 or 35 U.S.C. § 112, first paragraph, or both.

Accordingly, requiring election between the different Species is proper.

3. A complete reply to this requirement must:

1. elect an invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR § 1.143); and
2. list all claims reading on the elected invention, including any claims subsequently added.

An argument that all claims are allowable, or that the requirement is in error, is nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election. See, for example, M.P.E.P § 818.03(b).

To preserve a right to petition under 37 CFR § 1.144, Applicant must elect with traverse. See, for example, M.P.E.P. § 818.03(c). An untimely traversal loses the right to petition under 37 CFR § 1.144. A traversal must be presented at the time of election to be considered timely.

If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. See, for example, M.P.E.P § 818.03(a).

Should Applicant traverse on the ground that the Species are not patentably distinct, Applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing them to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if Examiner finds one of the Species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) of the other Species.

If claims are added after the election, Applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention. See M.P.E.P. § 809.02(a).

Upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, Applicant must amend the inventorship complying with 37 CFR § 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Amending inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR § 1.48(b) and include the fee required under 37 CFR § 1.17(i).

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, Applicant will be entitled to consideration of pending claims to additional Species which depend from, or otherwise require all the limitations of, an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR § 1.141.

CONCLUSION

4. A shortened statutory period for reply to this Office Action is set to expire ONE MONTH from the mailing date of this Office Action. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR § 1.136(a).
